

JASON JOHNSON NAMED TECHNICIAN OF THE YEAR

Jason Johnson, Past President of the New York Head Mechanics Association, was named Technician of the Year Tuesday night by the New York Association for Pupil Transportation (NYAPT).

Citing Jason's long list of superior achievements in the industry, NYAPT Past President, Harold Nicholson presented the award to him at NYAPT's 2021 Conference in Saratoga Springs. New York Bus Sales' Vice President for Service, John Johnston, led the contingent of our staff on hand to witness NYAPT's recognition of Jason as a leader in our industry and add our congratulations.

As the longtime Equipment Service Manager for the Horseheads Central School District, Jason is respected throughout New York for his dedication to maintaining and enhancing the highest possible standards for school bus safety.

Earlier this year, Jason joined Blue Bird's prestigious Customer Advisory Board to add his voice nationally to the pursuit of school transportation excellence.

We would also like to take a moment to say congratulations to all the other winners that were announced Tuesday night. Thank you all for your hard work and dedication to this industry!