Service Intervals

With the updated technology in today's units, Maintenance Intervals for various components have changed and we are sure will be changing. We try and update everyone when changes occur but have always recommended that the Service Manuals be reviewed with each purchase you make to assure you are within the manufacturer's guidelines.

We have previously sent this information out, and attention should be paid not only to "mileage" when setting up intervals for things like oil changes, but also "HOURS".

We recently received a call from Jason Johnson from Horseheads C.S. who alerted us to the fact that he was still following the recommended "mileage" interval for oil changes, the units were over by "hours".

Therefore we thought it would be a good idea to send the attached "cheat sheet" of service intervals we came up with and let everyone know they should be checking BOTH mileage AND Hours!

THANKS FOR POINTING THAT OUT JASON!
